

Munevera Begić, PhD

Research title/Position: Assistant professor

Affiliation: Faculty of Agriculture and Food Science, University of Sarajevo, Bosnia & Herzegovina

Occupation field: Food technology (Meat Science & Technology, Meat Quality, Food Analysis)

Short biography: Munevera Begić was born in Vlasenica. In 2012, as the best student of the first cycle of the studies at the Faculty of Agriculture and Food Sciences, the University of Sarajevo awarded her a special award „Golden Badge“. Her Ph.D degree in Food technologies was successfully defended in October 2021, with the topic „The influence of production technology on the overall quality and level of PAH compounds in "Visočka pečenica", traditional dry-cured meat product of Bosnia and Herzegovina“. She is an assistant professor working in the field of Food Technology at the Faculty of Agriculture and Food Sciences, University of Sarajevo. Her teaching activity includes lecturing on the following modules: Technology of meat, fish and eggs, Technology of oil and fat and Technology of ready-made food. She participated in national and international congresses and symposiums with a total of 13 lectures. She was involved in the implementation of several national and international projects. To date, she is the author or co-author of 22 scientific papers.