

Soňa Hermanová, PhD

Position: Head of 3D Printing and Innovation Group

Affiliation: Mendel University in Brno, Faculty of AgriSciences - Brno, Czech Republic

Occupation field: Biodegradable and Biocompatible Polymers, Immobilized Enzymes, Edible Films and Coatings and 3D Food Printing

Short biography: Soňa Hermanová is a head of research group of 3D printing and Innovation at FoodTech department at MENDELU in Brno, Czech Republic. She received her habilitation in Macromolecular chemistry in 2021 at UCT Prague, CZ. She is an author and co-author of 33 WoS articles with more than 500 citations.

Her research interests include biodegradable and biocompatible polymers, immobilized enzymes, edible films and coatings, and 3D food printing. Doc. Hermanová is responsible for the module of 3D food printing in international V4+ project Food Quality in Digital Age (01/02/2023–31/07/2024).