

Anastasia Semenova, PhD

Research title: Doctor of Technical Sciences, Professor

Position: Deputy Director for Research

Affiliation: V.M. Gorbatov Federal Research Center for Food Systems – Moscow, Russia

Occupation field: Food Science, Meat Science

Short biography: Anastasia Semenova, meat industry engineer and technologist, has been working at the V.M. Gorbatov Federal Scientific Center of Food Systems for over 35 years and, Honored Scientist of the Russian Federation. She defended her PhD thesis on meat and meat product qualimetry and her doctoral thesis on assessing the technological effect of using food additives. She has supervised 15 PhDs, 4 Doctors of Science, and 1 foreign PhD (Kazakhstan). She is the developer of Russian standards for meat products and has about 500 published works and 13 patents. Her research interests include: quality and safety of meat and meat products; fermented products.