

Stamen Radulović, PhD

Research title: Associate professor

Position: Associate professor in the Department of Animal Nutrition and Botany

Affiliation: University in Belgrade, Faculty of Veterinary Medicine – Belgrade, Serbia

Occupation field: Animal Nutrition, Feed Quality and Safety, Feed Additives

Short biography: Stamen Radulović was born in Šabac in 1980. He entered the Veterinary Faculty of the University of Belgrade in the 1999/2000 school year and graduated in 2008, with an average grade of 9.00. In the same year, he was elected as a professional associate at the Department of Nutrition and Botany, and in 2010 as an assistant. In 2014, he defended his doctoral dissertation under the title: Investigation of the influence of natural growth stimulators on the health status and production results of rearing pigs. He was elected to the position of assistant professor for the scientific field of Nutrition in 2017, and to the position of associate professor in 2022. As an author and co-author, he participated in the creation of more than 150 scientific papers, including nine papers from the international SCI list. He is one of the authors of the textbooks "Course of Nutrition" and the "Poultry Nutrition". He participated in the creation of four technical and development solutions. Since 2010, he has been included in the project of the Ministry of Science and Education of the Republic of Serbia 46002 III.